refunds on the amount taken from the plaintiff checking account to pay money that the bank paid for items that came into the bank and the funds were not in the plaintiff checking/debit account on January 10, 2006 the plaintiff is accused again that the plaintiff and the Compass Bank relationship has collided because of a check written at the Compass Bank for $392.00 before that check was written the plaintiff had written a check for $368.52 that the customer service line/department says that the check for $368.52 had clear the checking account the banking service line indicated that the plaintiff balance was 0 threw the bank customer service speaking to a representative the Compass Bank representative says that the $368.52 check clear my checking account and there is a $8.00 balance remaining in the account information of the account being on a frozen status never came into the consecration on January 2, 2006 the Compass bank credited my checking account two NSF fees $36.00 x2 =$72.00 and January 9, 2006 the bank credited my account $180.00 NSF $36.00 x 5= $180.00 then a credit for $29.95 one credit for $4.97 all totaling $286.92 the plaintiff has more credit on the account that the Compass Bank has not credit to the plaintiff checking account January 10, 2006 the plaintiff was awaiting several disputes to come in on the plaintiff Checking account January 9, 2006 the disputes of funds were settled threw the Compass Bank a dispute for $ 4.97 one dispute for $29.95 and another dispute that was supposedly going to be reversed because the Compass bank already paid the amount earlier $38.94 if the amount was include in the account disputes the total would not be $286.92 the total would be $325.77 before the the amount $38.94 had clear my checking account their was enough money to pay all the checks coming into my checking account because the plaintiff has put in the dispute thur Compass Bank this would have made the Compass Bank owes back to the plaintiff fund that Compass Bank had taken form the plaintiff checking account because of the $38.94 that was not authorized by the plaintiff to take the amount of $38.94 from the plaintiff checking account the checking account began to fall below the balance for a number of checks that the plaintiff had left money in the checking account from the plaintiff direct deposit for the number of checks to be paid the checks could not be paid because of the unauthorized transaction of $38.94 therefore the checking began to have NSF taken out of the checking account and Service fees my direct deposit comes thur to the bank deposited into my checking account up until January 2006 leaving money in my checking account to pay for all the checks that were written but when the $38.94 was posted for payment to be paid from the checking account the checks did not pay from the checking account because the funds were not in the checking account when the written checks came into the checking account to be paid a $11.57 check one $6.06 check one $29.58 check because the $38.94 debit came in the checking account to be paid the $38.94 took funds for other checks that came in to be paid from what was left in my checking account the checking account began began to incur fees before the account was close the plaintiff contact the Birmingham branch bank Supervisor Mr. Woods who is not a defendant the plaintiff told Mr. Woods that Compass Bank was closing the plaintiff checking account Mr. Wood say that Compass bank did not want to have anything else to do with a customer like me because of the way that my business is handle with the Compass Bank Compass Banks Teller Supervisor Jerry Churthers call me at home saying that Compass Bank had made a mistake after cashing a check at Compass Bank for $392.00 which the plaintiff dose not believe that their was any mistake made on the plaintiff behalf the Compass Bank Teller Supervisor had not done enough research before making the mistake of calling the plaintiff about the check written for $392.00 putting the blame on the plaintiff saying the plaintiff is at fault for the $392.00 check the plaintiff dose not believe that the plaintiff is at fault for any amount the plaintiff believes that the Compass Bank statement of the plaintiff did not account for the money being used correctly in the plaintiff account it would seem to the plaintiff that Compass Bank statement was not fair and the statement is unwarranted from Compass Bank the checks from my checking account could have been paid and the total amount of the NSF refunded and deputes refunded back to my checking account the Compass Bank would not be having a civil complaint placed against them the plaintiff is pleading with the court for the amount of $3,000.000.00 and a jury trail that the plead against the defendant is ready an available to be heard and found for the plaintiff complaint
